

Tecnocom & ILEVO-Schneider sign a worldwide agreement for developing common initiatives of broadband PLC

Tecnocom, Telecomunicaciones y Energía, S.A and Schneider Electric Powerline Communications AB – market branded as ILEVO- has recently signed a non-exclusive worldwide agreement in order to develop common initiatives and targeting new business opportunities related with broadband Powerline solutions.

This agreement reinforces the position of each company within the Broadband Powerline industry (BPL) with a clear benefit for their customers as it is remarked by Pedro Elena, Sales Manager of Tecnocom “Joining the experience of a worldwide leader system integrator Tecnocom with the technology and services of a leading provider of broadband Powerline solutions and products Ilevo, will allow our customers to benefit from the combined experience and high skilled teams cooperation”.

This agreement is a testimonial of the momentum of Ilevo and the competitiveness of its offering on the BPL market. According to Eric Morel, CEO of Ilevo: “This agreement also reinforces, with a structuring effect, the capacity of this industry to serve the worldwide increasing demand for BPL platforms and its faster implementation”.

Tecnocom (www.tecnocom.biz) is since last three years, the system integration company pioneering the design and engineering of PLC/IP networks as part of its commitment with new technologies. Tecnocom has being involved in the vast majority of most important voice and data deployments using electricity infrastructure with broadband PLC technology in Spain, Latin America, Asia and Portugal. In this last country, Tecnocom is a major shareholder of TecnoCBL and CeC, a networking and mobile telephony system integrator, where Tecnocom has over 40% of the company.

Ilevo (www.ilevo.com) is a leading provider of broadband IP Platform for telecommunication, multimedia and energy management applications based on Powerline solutions and products. As a 100% subsidiary of Schneider Electric, the world-wide leader in Power and Control, Ilevo provides to its customers both deep telecommunication expertise and top electrical knowledge. Taking advantage of its unique competences, Ilevo is providing its customers with a complete catalog of applications for the Quadruple Play. “Ilevo, the Power to Communicate”.