

*Broadband communications to everyone, everywhere
at any power outlet*

Schneider Electric Powerline Communications (SEPC), a company of Schneider Electric, is a leading provider of solutions for broadband communications infrastructures using electrical networks. The purpose of llevo infrastructures is to constitute a PLC network intended for multimedia, energy, and power & control applications.

SEPC is based in Sweden and France with several sales offices throughout the world, providing our customers with a local presence worldwide, while benefiting from a corporate group of highly skilled experts.

To strengthen its support team in France, SEPC is looking for a:

Telecom Network Engineer

- Mission :
You will be part of the Technical Support Team working on technical issue from network provisioning to network operation on the electrical grid.
- Responsibilities :
Provide customers with technical support level 2 and 3 on phone, by e-mail and on-site
Project Management
Customer contact
- Profile :
Proactive, well organised and easy going person
Fluent in French and English

To apply to this offer, send your Curriculum & cover letter to alice.avila@fr.schneider-electric.com

llevo <>

a company of Schneider
Electric